

First Car Detective

Search for the items in bold.

Young Jimmy Duffy was as happy as any 16-year-old boy could possibly be; He'd completely aced his driving test, and now he had his license for all to see. With money carefully saved, he bought an ancient Camaro SS, his first car to own. His parents could only marvel at how fast he'd grown and how quickly time had flown.

He rounded up a rag, a toothbrush, 4 sponges, a wire brush, and Armor All, Along with window, all-purpose, and fuel injector cleaners—it was quite a haul.

His parents watched in wonder as Jimmy rolled up his sleeves and got to work; When it came to his beloved “wheels,” cleaning was a task that, for once, he didn't shirk.

He attached the nozzle to the hose, turned the spigot on, and applied Wash & Wax—

He was determined to make his rusting treasure sparkle and shine to the max.

With screwdriver, pliers, and 2 wrenches, he carefully secured the license plate,

Then dreamt about cruising on the open road—a thrill he did eagerly await.

3 air fresheners were hung, and 3 maps stored, along with parking meter change,

As well as a padlock, 6 funnels, and a can opener, which seemed a bit strange.

When all was ready, he turned the key in the ignition, anticipating the engine's roar. Instead, it sputtered, then died, and his dream car resided in the driveway evermore.